Application Guidebook for Admission to the Double Degree Program for the Doctoral Degree
at the Graduate School of Science and Technology,
Niigata University, with the Partner Institutions

The Graduate School of Science and Technology, Niigata University, accepts applications from international students based on the Double Degree Program agreement with its partner institutions. Students admitted under this exchange agreement receive the privilege of enrolling in both institutions at the same time and earning double doctoral degrees, one from each university, under the supervision of faculty members from both institutions.

The Doctoral Program at the Graduate School of Science and Technology, Niigata University, provides state-of-the-art education and research to help deepen students' mastery of specialization and develop their comprehensive and interdisciplinary analytical skills. The program's aim is to provide the students with the following abilities:

- (1) The ability to broaden their perspective and recognize their own responsibility toward nature, society, and mankind
- (2) The ability to identify, analyze and solve problems,
- (3) The ability to communicate effectively,
- (4) The ability to make comprehensive and persuasive presentations at international conferences and other venues,
- (5) The ability to write quality papers for scholarly journals.

Through its unique collaborative graduate education, the Double Degree Program seeks to further develop individuals who can contribute to the development of society and industry.

The Application Guidebook stipulates the admission procedures and regulations for those who wish to pursue the doctoral degree in the Double Degree Program provided by the Graduate School of Science and Technology, Niigata University. Successful applicants from a partner institution will be admitted to matriculate formally, as regular students, at Niigata University.
